Bi-annual publication to help adults select picture books for children learning English as a second language.

REALBOOK NEWS <!--break-->

Published twice yearly, REALBOOK NEWS aims to help adults select suitable picture books for children beginning to learn English as a foreign or additional language.

REALBOOK NEWS grew out of the Editor, Opal Dunn's, work as a consultant for the Council of Europe on early foreign language learning. Teachers and parents wanted to include REAL-picture-BOOKS as part of their language activities, but found it difficult to find what suitable books were available.

Each issue introduces over 20 books suitable for children learning to read in English. A regular feature article discusses relevant topics of interest like Reading in a foreign language, Emotional Literacy ? reading about feelings, and Developing Visual Literacy.

Issue 10, November 2001, celebrating five years of publication, included a special Nursery Supplement for the increasing number of very young children beginning English worldwide.

REALBOOK NEWS is free. Copies can be obtained from the Editor by contacting Opald@realbooks.co.uk [2], fax 020 7704 6686 or downloading issues from the website www.realbooks.co.uk [3]
